U.S. Rushes Summit Proposals

RESTRAIN GRIEVED FATHER—Charles Dalrymple is restrained by police after identifying the body of his son, Dennis, 8, who was found suffocated in a refrigerator near his home at Weymouth, Mass., early today. The boy had been missing since Saturday. Police said he apparently crawled into the old ice-box, slammed the door and locked himself in. (AP Photofox)

Dulles Starts Brazil Fence Mending Talk

War, Peace, Coffee Prices On Agenda In Kubitschek Parleys

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles was flying down to Rio today for a fence-mending visit with Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek and talks ranging from war and peace to the price of coffee.

Dulles carried a message from President Eisenhower to the Brazilian leader, who took the lead in trying to rebuild good relations between the United States and its Latin neighbors after Vice President Nixon was stoned in Venezuela and Peru last May.

Kubitschek then proposed a summit meeting of the Western Hemisphere's presidents to restore inter-American unity and deal with Latin America's chronic economic underdevelopment. Eisenhower reportedly feels that such a high-level meeting could not accomplish much, but approves the idea of a meeting of foreign ministers.

Brazilian leaders now figure that it may take at least a year to lay the groundwork for any inter-American high-level meeting. Dulles and the Brazilians probably will toss the idea to the Organization of American States for future action.

Dulles said that during his two-day visit he would confer with the Brazilian President and Foreign Minister Francisco Negro de Lima "regarding the grave issues of indirect aggression, and of war and peace."

Among subjects expected to be discussed are Communist penetration in South America and Soviet overtures to renew diplomatic and commercial relations with Brazil.

Run On Stamps Depletes Supply

WASHINGTON (AP)—Blushing, the U. S. Post Office Department had an announcement to make today.

The run on stamps touched off by the new higher rates caused the department's main station here to run right out of one and four-cent stamps over the weekend.

ICBM Program Gains 6-12 Months In Atlas Launching

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Rocket experts today hailed the first completely successful launching of a fully powered Atlas as a significant step in the nation's race to develop an operational intercontinental ballistic missile.

B. G. MacNabb, operations manager for the missile's development, Convair Astronautics, said progress in the ICBM program was advanced 6 to 12 months by Saturday's brilliant launching.

Every test objective was accomplished, MacNabb said, as the 85-foot Atlas streaked over the Atlantic at speeds of 15,000 miles an hour for some 2,300 miles.

It was the first successful performance of a three-engine Atlas, which has enough power to go the full 6,000-mile intercontinental range.

Mostly Fairer Weather Seen

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five-day forecast:

Maryland—Delaware: Temperatures will average slightly below normal. Tuesday fair with moderate temperature. Wednesday warmer with afternoon or evening thunderstorms. Fair and cooler Thursday and Friday. Saturday warmer with scattered showers. Total precipitation one-quarter to one-half inch.

Normal highs are in the 80s. Early morning lows range from mid 50s in the mountains to 60s elsewhere.

Williams Due To Win Sixth Primary Test

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Voters in recession-hit Michigan are expected to renominate Gov. G. Mennen Williams to an unprecedented sixth term Tuesday in a primary seen by Williams as a measure of reaction to the recession.

Williams, likely contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, faces his first primary opposition in years.

But the 47-year-old governor has ignored his opponent, radio station owner William I. Johnson, and instead has concentrated on urging an impressive Democratic turnout to show Michigan's scorn for the "Eisenhower recession."

Paul D. Bagwell, 45, the unopposed Republican candidate for governor, also has campaigned on economic issues. He claims Williams' tax policy and kinship with labor leaders has chased industry and jobs from Michigan.

Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) is also unopposed in the Republican primary.

Johnson, 56, heads a slate of party rebels that represent the first split in the Democratic Party since it took over a state government that once was solidly Republican.

Little Rock's School Case Goes Before Appeals Court

Integration Delay Move Under Fire

NAACP Hits 2½ Year Postponement Order By Federal Judge

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Arguments in a case which have a major effect on the speed of public school integration in the South were heard by the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals today in a small, spectator-jammed courtroom.

The crowd of 120 persons, almost evenly divided between Negro and white, filled every seat as the seven judges met in special session to hear an appeal challenging a 2½-year postponement of integration at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark.

Eight students finished last term at Central High School after a tense year of mixed attendance under a federal court-approved plan for gradual integration.

Paratroopers were sent to the school by President Eisenhower to maintain order.

Granted By Federal Judge
The delay, sought by the Little Rock School Board, was granted by Federal Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is appealing. The NAACP originally objected to the gradual plan on the grounds it was too slow but now is trying to salvage any sort of immediate integration at Central High and keep integration moving in the South.

The appeals court has dealt with the Little Rock situation three times, always ruling in favor of gradual integration. The school board holds that the appeals court must decide whether a school district is responsible for enforcing the district laws.

Cites Violence
Its brief cites instances of violence which occurred at Central the past school year and declares that the board should not be forced to go ahead with integration under the "insuperable handicaps which have been thrust upon it."

The NAACP's brief is based on three points:
1. That community opposition—even though it involves violence—does not furnish sufficient legal grounds for suspending a court-approved plan.
2. The District Court simply does not have the power to suspend, postpone or rescind the decree approved by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

3. The lower court not only lacks constitutional authority to grant the delay but the delay would set a precedent disastrous to the concept of constitutional government.

Burns Heads Japan Force

FUCHU, Japan (AP)—Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns of the U. S. Air Force today took over from Lt. Gen. Frederic H. Smith Jr. as commander of U. S. forces in Japan.

Burns, former commander of the Air Force Air Proving Ground Center at Eglin Base, Fla., also relieved Smith as commander of the 5th Air Force.

Smith left after the change of command ceremony to become commander of the Air Training Command at Randolph Field, Tex.

Thrill Ride Hurls Two Into Crowd, Youth, 18, Killed

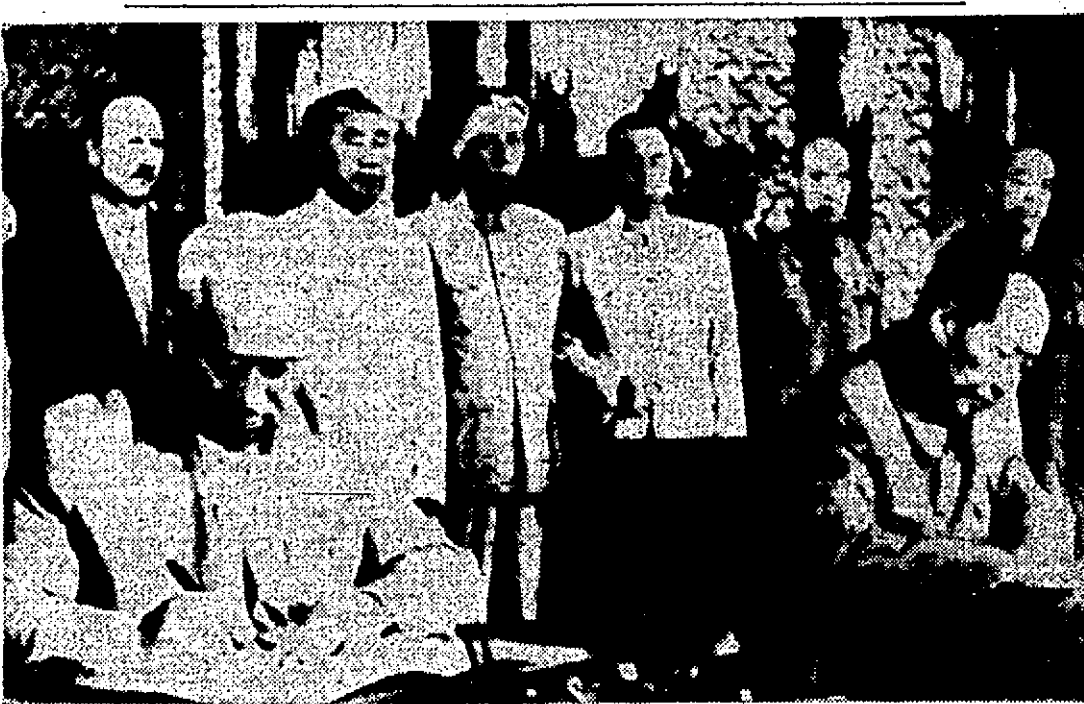

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A souped-up merry-go-round called the "Comet" hurled two riders into a crowd at the Middletown Fair Sunday night.

One, Francis Kearney, 18, Monticello, N.Y., died about three hours later at the Middletown Sanitarium.

The other, George Van Aken, 30, Middletown, suffered a possible fractured spine. He was reported in critical condition today at the sanitarium.

The Comet has 10 cars suspended from cables which rotate around a pole. State police said the cars were whirling at about 45 miles an hour when a cable attached to the Kearney-Van Aken car snapped.

The two riders hit a concrete sidewalk at least 30 feet away and struck four persons, who suffered shock and bruises.

Man Burned; Police Probe Torture Clue

Nephew Of Hoffa's Aide; Former Agent Of Laundry Union

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—A fire-blistered man who staggered into a hospital here today was identified as the nephew of a Detroit aide to Teamsters Union chief Jimmy Hoffa.

He is Frank Kierdorf, 56, nephew of Herman Kierdorf who was brought last week before the Senate Labor Rackets Committee investigating reported tieups between mobsters and unionists in Detroit.

Frank Kierdorf is a former business agent for a Laundry Workers Union at Flint, Mich.

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—A fire-blistered man who staggered into a hospital at 1 a.m. today, police said he may have been a torture victim.

He was clad only in a bathrobe and socks and had a severe burn on his head and neck. His hair was burned off.

The man, delirious and in severe shock, answered questions as to his identity with only, "John Doe of Washington," or "I don't remember."

Indicates Torture
Oakland County sheriff's detective Donald Francis said several times he mumbled, "No, no, you don't... don't do it, John," indicating he might have been tortured.

The man's hands were so badly burned police doubted he could be identified through fingerprints.

Francis said someone must have brought him to the hospital, then disappeared. Doctors said the man could not have walked very far.

A practical nurse, Mrs. Mary Medina, saw the man approach the main entrance of the hospital as a dark car pulled away.

Smelled Gasoline
Nurses said they smelled gasoline on the man's shoes. He was described as between 25 and 35 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighing about 200 pounds. He had a full upper dental plate and a partial lower one.

Police said the man's robe had been put on after he was burned. A check showed no fires or explosions had been reported that might account for the man's burns.

Woman Still Champ Air Force Sergeants Try For Talking Title

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—since Kozina began talking Friday night. But the two staff sergeants were still at it.

Johnson, a former radio disc jockey, was telling jokes. He repeated the same story over and over, with slight variations each time before switching to something else.

Kozina, his voice raspy and barely audible, told The Associated Press he still felt strong. His wife was about ready to give birth to their fourth child, in St. John's Nfld. Talking was one way of passing the time waiting for word, he said.

The test was being held in the noncommissioned officers club at this Strategic Air Command Base in northeastern New York.

Man Trapped; Limb Severed

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—A hubcap dropped off as James Riste, 32, drove over a railroad track today. When Riste got out to retrieve it, his foot caught under a rail.

He hobbled to his car and drove six blocks to a hospital. Riste was reported in fair condition after surgery.

Suspect Shot, Second Held In Auto Theft

BALTIMORE (AP)—One youth was shot twice by a policeman and a second youth also was nabbed after a stolen car crashed to climax an eight-block chase early today.

Patrolman Emory Koch said the 17-year-boy who was shot came at him with a rock after saying he wasn't "going to be chicken and let a cop catch him."

He was shot in the back and leg and was reported in fair condition at South Baltimore General Hospital.

A 16-year-old boy stopped after warning shots were fired but the other youth continued to flee. Koch said he fired more warning shots and as he rounded a corner the 17-year-old came running toward him, holding a rock in his raised hand.

The policeman fired one shot which seemed to spin the boy around and then shot again. The youth disappeared in a wooded area but police said he was later found at his home.

One bullet entered his back and came out from the abdomen. Another bullet grazed his leg.

U. S. Jets In Formosa On Training Mission

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The American command in Formosa today announced that F100D Super Sabres have been deployed here but denied they were sent in answer to rising clamor for late-model planes for Chiang Kai-shek's air force.

An announcement said American pilots flew the planes to this island from the Philippines for routine training, just as they have in the past.

Khrushchev Meets With China Chief

Reply Of Russian Leader To Western Note Slated Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States rushed work today on Mideast proposals for a United Nations summit conference while awaiting word from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as to whether he will attend.

A new Khrushchev message to President Eisenhower was expected momentarily after the Soviet Premier's return to Moscow Sunday night from a surprise meeting with Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-tung in Peiping.

His secret trip, announced as he flew home, caught Western officials by surprise. They speculated that his talks with Mao could have a vital effect on Khrushchev's summit conference policies from here on.

A communique issued by the two Communist chieftains threw little light on the nature of any major decisions reached.

No Hint Of Decision
While demanding a summit meeting to deal with Middle East problems, it gave no hint as to which, if either, of two alternatives Khrushchev would accept.

One is French Premier de Gaulle's latest proposal for a five-power session outside the United Nations. The other involves proposals of President Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for a special session within the 11-nation U.N. Security Council about Aug. 12.

U.S. officials commented that the Soviet-Red Chinese declaration followed the same tough line Khrushchev has used repeatedly during the past two weeks. It demanded immediate withdrawal of United States and British troops from Lebanon and Jordan and accused the "Western powers" of planning new military moves against Iraq in spite of the fact that both have now recognized Iraq's revolutionary government.

Series Of Proposals
An administration official said that if a summit meeting is held Eisenhower will make "a series of concrete and constructive proposals" for dealing with the problems of the Middle East. The task of working out these proposals was handed over to a group of State-Department policy makers under the chairmanship of G. Frederick Reinhardt, counselor of the department.

At the airport, he told reporters all he knew about the Khrushchev-Mao meeting was what was said in the communique.

Officials said that the theme of Eisenhower's planning for a possible meeting with Khrushchev is opposition to the use of "indirect aggression" by nations seeking to upset governments they do not like.

It was learned on high authority that Eisenhower's present intention is to tell Khrushchev flatly that the United States will not tolerate the use of such methods.

Asked To Halt Flights
(Political circles in Jerusalem said, however, the Israeli government had called on the British to stop flying over their soil on Friday before the Soviet note was received.)

Some Western diplomats speculated the next move might be for Egypt to close the Suez Canal to ships bound to and from Jordan.

If the canal were closed, this would mean ships from the West would have to skirt Africa to reach Jordan's only port of Aqaba.

Ike Vetoes Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today vetoed a bill carrying 6½ billion dollars for 17 federal agencies. He said over 500 million dollars for the Civil Service retirement fund was not needed.

In returning the bill to Congress Eisenhower said he was doing so "because of my strong conviction that Congress should reconsider its action appropriating over half a billion dollars not presently needed in the civil service retirement and disability fund."

There is no sound justification whatever for adding unnecessarily over half a billion dollars to a deficit which may reach 12 billion dollars this fiscal year."

It was Eisenhower's first veto of an appropriations bill since he took office in 1953.

Skeleton May Prove Man Not Descended From Apes

GROSSETO, Italy (AP)—The skeleton of a child-sized man, Africa. He dates back only half a million to a million years, and the soft coal mine, may prove man did not descend from apes, according to Swiss scientist Dr. Johannes Hurler of the Basel Museum of Natural History.

The skeleton, found after two years of digging, pushes the beginnings of man back to at least 11 million years ago, he said.

That would mean, he explained, that man descended in the same period as the apes—or even before them—perhaps from some common ancestor which resembled neither.

The previous oldest known man was Australopithecus, the so-called southern ape found in South Africa. He dates back only half a million to a million years, and the soft coal mine, may prove man did not descend from apes, according to Swiss scientist Dr. Johannes Hurler of the Basel Museum of Natural History.

TRAPPED—Raymond Gilligan, 35, is squeezed tightly between bars of an iron fence on a footbridge over the East River Drive at New York's 25th Street last night. Jordan Seals Border After Syrian Action

Arabs Act At Russ Insistence; British, U. S. Airlift Halted

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Jordan authorities said today the United Arab Republic had sealed off its Syrian border with Jordan apparently at Soviet insistence.

Officials said Jordan quickly retaliated by sealing off their side of the frontier.

Official sources in Damascus confirmed that Jordan had closed its border and was turning back all cars, trucks and trains moving between Damascus and Amman. The Syrians claimed they had no advance warning of the move.

Break Off Relations
King Hussein's regime broke off diplomatic relations with the U.A.R. about 10 days ago after the latter recognized the new Iraqi government.

Informants here also said the British-American airlift of British forces in Jordan had been stopped. They said Israel withdrew permission for the planes to fly over her territory after receiving a stiff Soviet note objecting to the flights which were the Britons' main source of supply.

(Political circles in Jerusalem said, however, the Israeli government had called on the British to stop flying over their soil on Friday before the Soviet note was received.)

Some Western diplomats speculated the next move might be for Egypt to close the Suez Canal to ships bound to and from Jordan.

If the canal were closed, this would mean ships from the West would have to skirt Africa to reach Jordan's only port of Aqaba.

Cyprus Violence Hits At Kyrenia

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Violence between Greek and Turk Cypriots spread to Kyrenia on the island's north coast for the first time when gunmen ambushed a party of Turk Cypriots today and wounded two.

The killings continued elsewhere. A group standing at a bus stop in Nicosia was sprayed with automatic weapon fire. One Greek Cypriot was killed and another wounded.

Five other Cypriots died Sunday in the two-month-old wave of bloodshed between the two groups.

Russ Sputnik IV To Be 'Cosmic Observatory'

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russia's Sputnik IV, already in preparation, will be a giant "cosmic observatory" designed to probe the secrets of interstellar space, Soviet sources said today.

Russian scientists at the space conference here would give no further details of the project, except to say that it was made possible by the successful launch of the 1½ ton Sputnik III.

Other scientists at the conference said an observatory above the earth's atmosphere probably would be able to relay television pictures giving the clearest view of the universe that man has ever beheld.

Such a satellite would be a considerable advance over those launched so far, which have been designed only to collect information about the upper atmosphere and close-in areas in space.

"It would be as though Mt. Palomar's telescope could look into the skies without having to pierce the thick veil which is the earth's atmosphere," one scientist said.

Russian Moon Attempt Fails, Report Claims

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Russia tried but failed to beat the United States to the moon three months ago, Aviation Week magazine reported today.

The magazine said the Russians fired a rocket at the moon May 1 but the device failed. Aviation Week would not give the source of its report.

The trade journal also said the Air Force will try to send this country's first rocket 228,000 miles to the moon between 6 a.m. and noon on Aug. 17.

The Defense Department has declined to disclose exact date for the moon shot.

Eight Drown As Car Rolls From Ferry

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—An attendant yelled "Jump! Jump!" in vain while a fruit picker's station wagon with faulty brakes rolled off a ferry boat into the Sacramento River, drowning eight persons.

Five of the victims were youngsters. "I guess they couldn't understand me," ferry operator Duke Bryant said. "The little kids in the car were laughing and playing but the teen-agers were screaming in fright as the car went through the safety chain and over the edge."

The vehicle floated nearly 50 feet before the screams stopped as it sank at Princeton, 50 miles north of Sacramento, Saturday.

Dead were Fortino Aguilar, 38; Mrs. Christina Aguilar, 32, his wife; Mrs. Santos Garcia, 50; Mrs. Aguilar's mother; and five Aguilar children.

Skindivers found the vehicle upside down in 25 feet of water and recovered the bodies.

Construction Moves Ahead To New High

U. S. Spending Helps To Shake Recession, Latest Survey Shows

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Construction has shaken the effects of the recession with the help of government spending and is climbing to new records, a monthly survey of the Labor and Commerce Departments showed today.

Total dollar volume of new construction for the first seven months of 1958 was up slightly over the same period in 1957, the year when the economy was booming before it skidded into a recession last August.

3 Per Cent Over July

The value of new construction outlays in July was, according to preliminary government estimates, $4,613,000,000, — 3 per cent above July, 1957, which was the highest month on record up until the July just ended.

The boom aspects of July this year as compared with the same month of 1957 were tempered, however, by a reminder from the Commerce and Labor Department experts that last year construction activity was restricted somewhat by shortages of cement and concrete products.

Public Construction Up

The total dollar volume of new construction for the first seven months of this year was $26,700,000,000, reflecting a 3 per cent increase in public construction over 1957. This hike in public construction reflected increased spending for highways and public housing projects for the armed services.

Private construction thus far in 1958 has totaled about $18,600,000,000, slightly lower than the comparable figure for last year.

Expenditures for residential buildings were running about the same as a year ago, representing about half the total of private construction for both years.

World's End Termed Near

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than 250,000 Jehovah's Witnesses — the largest convention gathering in New York history — Sunday heard their leaders predict an imminent end to civilization.

Ending their eight-day international assembly, the Witnesses, representing approximately one-third of their world number, jammed Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds and surrounding streets in what spokesmen described as the largest religious assemblage in modern times.

The crowd in Yankee Stadium — 122,814 by the Witnesses' count — surpassed the previous stadium record of 100,000 drawn last year by evangelist Billy Graham.

Bare Knuckles Approach To Summit Talk Raises Doubt If Ike, Khrushchev Can Reach Any Accord

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—It seems almost incredible that President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev could ever agree on anything at a summit meeting — after what they've said to each other and the way they've said it.

There is probably no parallel in history for the way the two men — in their letter exchanges these past two weeks — have gone about preparing for a meeting at the summit.

If diplomacy is supposed to be the kid-glove approach to delicate or desperate problems, this wasn't it. This was bare-knuckles. They've traded accusations, denunciations and defenses against each other's charges.

It's been like watching two men call each other every name in the book at the very moment they were discussing the problem of going off somewhere for a quiet talk.

Khrushchev started it — and set the tone — with his July 19 letter to Eisenhower, suggesting a summit meeting. Altogether, he's written three letters. Eisenhower has written him three. This is how the exchange went:

Khrushchev's first letter — He accused the United States of aggression in Lebanon; said American military leaders were indulging in intimidation; and implied the American commander of the 6th Fleet was a criminal or a fanatic.

He tried a little intimidation of his own by reminding Eisenhower the Soviet Union has a fleet, an air force and an intercontinental missile; practically called Eisenhower's stated reason for going to the summit a "hoax."

Eisenhower's first letter — He accused the United States of aggression in Lebanon; said American military leaders were indulging in intimidation; and implied the American commander of the 6th Fleet was a criminal or a fanatic.

A group of the sect marched to the White House Sunday night and presented a letter for the President to a guard. More than 200 Friends are meeting here "to consider what role of public ministry and witness should be undertaken in harmony with their dedication to peace."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Members of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) want to meet with President Eisenhower to discuss world problems.

A group of the sect marched to the White House Sunday night and presented a letter for the President to a guard. More than 200 Friends are meeting here "to consider what role of public ministry and witness should be undertaken in harmony with their dedication to peace."

into Lebanon a phony; and said this country and Britain, besides bringing the world close to war, were wrecking the United Nations.

Eisenhower to Khrushchev — He denounced Khrushchev for "the manner in which you have chosen to express yourself"; defended the American action in Lebanon; accused the Soviet Union of indirect aggression; blamed it for blocking peaceful solutions of Mideast problems in the U.N. and for torpedoing previous talks on a summit meeting.

Khrushchev to Eisenhower — He denied the Soviet Union was guilty of indirect aggression and again blamed the United States and Britain for direct aggression.

Eisenhower to Khrushchev — He accused the Soviets of trying to undermine the U.N. by wanting the summit meeting held outside that organization.

Khrushchev to Eisenhower — He accused the United States of trying to stall on a summit meeting and of backing down on an agreement to meet. Again he threw in the charge of American aggression.

U. S. Faces Problem In Arab East Situation In Getting Support

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

For years the United States has been losing friends in the Arab east.

It still is.

Strangely enough, the shock of recent events may have given Americans a chance to turn the tide. These events made Arabs see their area as the possible cockpit of World War III. The thought jolted them.

Thus, in the proposed summit meeting and in its actions elsewhere, the United States may face a last chance to salvage something from the wreckage of its prestige among the Arabs.

Oil and strategic position are two key points underlying any consideration of this area.

Basically, the struggle hinges on vast riches in oil.

And this is the crossroads of the world. The question that must worry Western leaders is this: Is the Soviet Union going to be able some day to squeeze the West's influence out of this area, and make Moscow master of the great sea route that connects east and west?

Those are the stakes.

One of the things that brought America to today's nadir of crisis was its failure to see, or at least comprehend, the implications of the movement toward independence that swept postwar across lands long under colonial rule.

This nationalist fever swept up the Arabs, too, but there is not a nationalism confined to the specific boundaries of one country. It is pan-Arabism, a feeling of oneness among people occupying a vast segment of the backward world, speaking Arabic, sharing the same racial memories, harboring bitterness against a history of exploitation.

The Russians did not really awaken to the possibilities of this movement until after Stalin's death. Then Soviet policy set out to capitalize on the tide, as if heeding the Biblical prophecy of Jeremiah:

"Egypt riseth up like a flood and the waves thereof shall be moved as rivers."

The waves now threatening to engulf all the Holy Land are those of a pan-Arab nationalism churned by frustration into a thing called Nasserism. Gamal Abdel Nasser, President of the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria, denies Nasserism exists. Whatever its name, the force came into being because of him. He may be the captive of its momentum.

Events of the past three months plummeted Western prestige in the Arab East. In many Arab eyes the twin intervention — in Jordan by the British and in Lebanon by the Americans — set back the clock and revived the dreaded bogeys of imperialism and colonialism.

Many Arabs still want desperately to remain the West's friends, though they have fallen silent before the swelling tide of emotional and often grotesquely distorted racial pride. Before this summer's events there had been developing a cautious attitude of reasonableness — reasonableness, at any rate, by Arab standards, which are far different from the West's.

Much of that climate is gone now. The United States, as leader of the West, can claim as friends in the Arab East only those whose survival depends upon a such friendship: Hussein, a lonely young monarch heavily guarded in Amman against his own people; Camille Chamoun, the tough, stubborn politician who has been occupying Lebanon's presidential palace; 750,000 frightened Christians in Lebanon; less than 500,000 scared Bedouins in Jordan.

How did American fortunes sink so low?

Basic Problem Cited
Palestine always has been basic to the Middle East problem. Up to February 1955, there was reason to hope the Arabs might turn inward to their own vast economic woes. Then began a nightmare for Western policy.

Nagged by hit-and-run commando attacks, Israel mounted an attack on the Egyptian-occupied Gaza Strip. That humiliated Nasser and endangered his political position. He sought arms. He could not meet U.S. terms. The Communist bloc was eager to help.

Even with these arms Nasser was in no position to upset Middle East peace. He still might have concentrated on attempts to cure Egypt's backwardness. However over-ambitious, Nasser's plan for a high Aswan Dam to increase Egypt's arable land might have kept him occupied at home.

But Washington pulled the rug from under Nasser, withdrawing an offer of help on the dam and handing him a gratuitous insult: Egypt wasn't up to such a program. The result was nationalization of the Suez Canal and the 1956 crisis.

The West, depending heavily on Arab oil, must choose: It can try to oppose nationalism and drive the Arabs into desperate measures such as slain Nuri Said meant when he talked of "a compulsion to flit with suicide." This can mean unending Arab turmoil and, even eventual Soviet sway.

Or the United States can encourage a genuine nationalism and try to lead it into constructive channels. To those who have had long Middle East experience, this course offers a chance to avert disaster.

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the Flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Plain Nuisance

IN ANY FRESH look at the values by which men live in this world in the mid-20th century, let us not forget the value of the nuisance. Either in private or public life, the nuisance operates on the general notion that he will beat you by wearing you down. He figures you will have neither the time nor the patience, nor wish to risk the stakes involved in whatever enterprise is at the heart of the matter. Thus, every year, thousands of civil cases are filed by men whose cause is not just but who reason that their opponents cannot or will not undertake the time and expense of a court trial. The result is settlement, a cold dollar recognition of nuisance value. This is a game played sometimes by unscrupulous firms which decline to pay bills, compelling the creditor to sue or take a cents-on-the-dollar payment to avoid that trouble.

THEN THERE ARE the lawmakers, especially at the state level, who regularly toss certain "nuisance" bills into the legislative hopper. These usually are designed to regulate this or that industry or enterprise. Suspicion is wide that a "pay-off" kills such bills. It is hard to prove, but occasionally such a case is nailed down tight. In too many places and far too often, this business of being a nuisance is practiced with calculated purpose. In its most usual form, it represents a kind of blackmail by delay. The practitioner seems to say: "Come across, or I'll steal your time, and maybe your money, too."

INTERNATIONALLY, Soviet communism has elevated nuisance value to a science. It is indeed a basic and frequently a critical part of Russian world diplomacy. The good Soviet diplomat is the man who can outlast all opposition, torture a subject to death, fray the edges of the sternest opposing resolve. At that level, the cause of peace and justice is continuously clouded by the phony claims, the delays and the scheming tactics of the professional nuisance-diplomats. At the levels close to home, the air is thickened by false claims for services rendered, phony charges of damages, unpaid bills, and so on through a host of nuisance devices. In the society of free men, there will be more justice and more freedom when ways are found—if ever they can be—to devalue the nuisance utterly and completely.

Winning Formula

IT'S GETTING ON toward campaign time, and the moment is at hand to advise the budding politician who really wants to make a score with the voters. Judging from the successful ventures already on record, this is the way to bring it off: Get yourself an old, battered hat and a tired, shiny suit. Then pile into an old car, preferably a seedy convertible, and hit the road. Toss some literature haphazardly on the back seat. It doesn't pay to look too well organized. If it's practical, take the wife along, but keep her in sweaters and skirts except at dinner affairs. If you've got a son who can sing and strum a guitar, fine. Send him along with the advance man setting up the tour dates. Prowl the back roads, show up on farmers' porches, in machine shops, at factory gates in the cool dawn. Look a bit dusty and disheveled from time to time. If these things don't do it, then politics isn't what it used to be.

Fact Beneath

ON THE FACE of it, the Air Force success in sending rockets 6,000 miles across the Atlantic is good news. This means that the nation's military capability has been extended. It means that the United States is edging closer to the Soviet Union's achievements in rocketry. Below the surface, however, lies the ominous fact that greater destructive capacity implies greater devastation in the event of war. With such weapons, the United States would be able to spread such havoc as mankind has never known. By the same token, an enemy thus equipped would be able to inflict similar destruction on the cities and people of this country. To speak of this is neither cowardly nor unpatriotic. To ignore the plain fact that the sword, as always, is twined with the plow, is to ignore the fact that this nation can now dispatch a nuclear warhead at fantastic speed from one continent to another should underscore, in the minds of all serious persons, the urgency that must attend our efforts to bring stability and peace in the world.

Slight Gain Seen For California Demos

WASHINGTON — The Census Bureau's prediction that California will gain seven more seats in Congress as a result of the 1960 census points up the fact that past gerrymandering by Republican Legislatures is tempering Democratic forecasts of victory in Congressional races this fall. Despite the strong Democratic trend demonstrated in California's primary elections, it is regarded as doubtful that Democrats will gain more than two House seats there in November. A gain of three is the most that is predicted. California now has a House delegation consisting of 17 Republicans and 13 Democrats. In a state in which Democrats outnumber Republicans by three to two, especially in a year in which Democratic hopes are high, a far larger turnover in Congressional seats might have been expected. But foresighted Republicans who have dominated the California Legislature for years have taken care of that.

Subsidy To Save Small Industry?

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A question on whether the U. S. government should grant a subsidy to save two companies in a small industry hit by the recession has been raised by the Domestic Minerals Stabilization Act, now before Congress.

As passed by the Senate, the bill would provide subsidy payments of around 75 million dollars a year for five years to U. S. producers of lead, zinc, tungsten and acid grade fluorspar.

The House Interior Committee added beryl, chromite and columbite to the list.

Final provisions will be worked out in conference after the House passes its version of the bill.

The provision which has caused the eyebrow lifting is the proposed subsidy of $13 a ton on production of 180,000 tons of domestically mined fluorspar.

Department of Interior had recommended an $8 subsidy, but Congress raised it.

Senator John J. Williams (R-Del.) tried to get this provision knocked out of the bill, but did not succeed.

THE POINT at issue now is that if the fluorspar industry is benefitted in this way, it may set a precedent for government bailouts of other small, private industries when they come on hard times.

Most people may not know what fluorspar is. Its principal use is in aluminum production, so a little bit of it goes into pots and pans. That brings the subject closer home. It is also used in steel, ceramic and chemical industries. An increasing use is in fluorine production for missile fuels.

Two-thirds of U. S. fluorspar is imported. Mexico furnished 55 per cent, Spain 14, Italy 13, Germany and Canada 9 per cent each. Foreign producers are opposing the proposed subsidy as discriminatory and a violation of trade agreements.

Only seven U. S. companies mine fluorspar domestically. For the last two years they have employed 800 men at mines, 700 at reduction mills. Five of the U. S. producers are captive companies whose entire output goes into aluminum and chemicals.

THE ONLY TWO companies that produce for the commercial market are Minerva Oil Co., a small producer, and Ozark-Mahoning, a Youngstown Sheet and Tube subsidiary, producing 80 per cent of the U. S. total. It would be principal beneficiary of the act.

Ozark-Mahoning's principal production is at North Gate, Colo. It was opened in February, 1952. As a Korean war production facility, the $580,000 plant was given a 60 per cent fast write-off, amounting to nearly $490,000.

The company was also given a government contract for 100,000 tons of acid grade fluorspar at $60 a ton. The North Gate mill has been a high cost producer from the beginning because of freight costs to principal markets in the east.

THE CURRENT market price is $50 a ton. The proposed "Minerals Stabilization Act would grant subsidies of $13 a ton up to a $53 price.

If production goes over 45,000 tons in any two quarters, the subsidy would be dropped. But while it was in effect, it would enable the North Gate plant to compete at a profit.

Captive mines, not producing for commercial market, would get no subsidy. The subsidy would not apply to low grade ores.

Department of Interior's justification for the subsidy is that it would keep this facility in operation till aluminum production picks up again. This would save a business which might be needed in time of national emergency.

It is also argued that the subsidy may stimulate prospecting for new fluorspar deposits and encourage production.

Foreign competitors argue that U. S. supplies are definitely limited and no new discoveries have been made in recent years. To use U. S. reserves in time of surplus production would make supply in wartime all the more difficult.

WHETHER the fact that the Republican party under President Eisenhower has been shaking away from some of the farm and small town roots will have any effect on the political complexion of state Legislatures remains to be seen. But if the past is any guide, they will be slow to change.

Politicians, with their eyes on the national scene, pay little attention to state Legislatures. But it will be they who after 1960 will be changing the boundaries of Congressional districts in 20 states which will win or lose Representatives, and, wittingly or not, changing the character of Congress.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—The selenologist who made a summer dinner party fascinating some weeks ago by his revelations of what seem to be mysterious changes on the surface of our moon came around the other night just to sit on the back terrace and look at the old girl lying serenely there in the sky.

A sunset storm had passed, the night was clear and between us, with only naked eyes and no telescopes to view her, we decided she was the most alluring thing in sight.

"IT IS TRUE that she will be only 220,000 miles away on or about the 2 a. m. swing on August 18th. That's 2 a. m. right here, EDT and, of course, allowance must be made for time changes in other areas," he said.

"The attempt to rocket to her will be made, I would certainly think, early on August 17th, so that we get a good start toward her by the proximity hour. This will be the so-called dark of the moon period.

"A layman would think that we would fire at her when she was full and we could observe the results, if any. But the dark of the moon is the correct time and phase for a variety of complex and only momentarily interesting reasons.

"Will the rocket get there? A shrug is the best answer. But if it does and the telemetering, photographic and radiation devices all work perfectly, we will know more by August 20th than any human beings in the entire life of this planet ever have known. It is a staggering thought."

WOULD THE devices to be used give a close enough picture to show if there was any kind of life there, if there was a long bridge, built in recent times, and the nature of the material that constitutes the surface of the moon?

"Long question, short answer," he said. "I did not design, instrument or plan the vehicle. I don't know what instruments are going into it, what pictures, if any, they are designed to achieve and how close the orbit will be. If we can see, telescopically, what appears to be a long, thin bridge, made and not natural, then obviously a TV camera in the rocket would make it even clearer, provided speed and atmospheric conditions are perfect.

"You might conceivably get only a blur. Or even nothing but a blank. The reason for the disappearance of the Linne crater may be answered, maybe not. Probably not. I don't hold much hope for a detailed, all-encompasssing answer, in any case. This is all sheerest experiment buttressed by thin hope. It's worth a try. If we are lucky, we will learn a lot. If not, nothing. And the thing may not even get there."

WOULD IT BE feasible to arm the rocket with a red dye or an atomic charge to prove by stained surface or explosion that the rocket reached and landed on the moon?

"It would not, not now. Enough red dye powder to make a visible stain would weigh so much in tonnage, not poundage, that we would not get the rocket off the ground here. It would take titanic quantities. An atomic explosion visible from here would be equally weighty in material load. Telemetering is our best hope."

"But, again, I did not (and actually could not) design or instrument this project. I'm talking all fresco. Maybe the thing has been fired down so that it gets there at all it will send back reams of information or come back with it."

IN ANY CASE, cost what it may, I am for it. It is a frustrating and maddening thing, to pass one's life glued to the end of an imperfect optical unit which gets one there—but not quite. Which just begins to reveal fascinating things—and then hazes them. It's like looking at a beautiful woman through a pane of glass. She's there, but you can't talk to her or even hold her hand.

"If this rocket as a starter and successive rockets, each more efficient, can shatter the barrier between us and that lovely creature up there I'm for doing everything conceivable to bring the result about."

"I HAVE A personal credo, and it is intensely personal and unsupported by enough data to cover a pinhead, that we are going to be stunned by what the TV camera finds there. It's a hunch, not a scientific fact. But stunned."

"I think our entire concept is going to be changed. If it isn't, and the old girl is a cold, empty, sterile and lifeless object, no harm will have been done and conquest of the moon still will be important. But I have a funny feeling we are going to be late for dinner."

"I think, I truly do, some kind of life has got there earlier. It need not be humanoid, even. It need not be anything like ourselves. But alive—and intelligent—and able to obliterate some things and create others. And I don't read science fiction."

Stingy Hoods Forget Soap

WASHINGTON — Let us look into the overall situation in Detroit. This doesn't mean everything in Detroit. It concerns overalls with smears of black grease on 'em.

The Senate racket committee charges that Detroit's overall laundry industry—a big business in the home of the motor car—largely is in charge of gangsters. These tough babies are stingy with the soap in the washing machines.

They don't get the overalls clean. Nobody dares take his business elsewhere because, as Irvin P. Miller, a long-time overall launderer, put it: "Everybody wants to keep on living."

INVESTIGATORS aren't so much interested in whether the freshly laundered overalls still are dirty, as in the fact that this overall racket somehow seems to be connected with the operations of Jimmy Hoffa's Teamsters Union. Jimmy is under subpoena to appear here in clean clothes soon to explain.

Miller's tale was a sad one. Shortly before he caught the plane for Washington, he said, two different gents phoned him anonymously to suggest he'd be wise not to mention certain prominent underworld names in Detroit. He, however, named a number of the motor city's top hoodlums as muscled into the overall business; committee counsel Robert Kennedy wondered if he weren't scared.

THE EVIDENCE indicated that Lehr took with him, on his business calls upon Detroit's garages, one Herman Kiersdorf, Teamster union official, to help clinch the deals. Kiersdorf, it turned out, walked from jail almost directly to his job as organizer for Council 43 of the Teamsters.

Another overall launderer, Malcolm Yerkes, said for instance that the union workers in a Pontiac automobile garage had been having him wash their clothes for 21 years. Suddenly they switched to the gangster laundrymen, who didn't seem to care whether they got the clothes clean.

THE MECHANICS decided to return the business to Yerkes, but union mogul Kiersdorf called on them and they changed their minds. Yerkes protested to Hoffa, but still has received no reply.

Senator John L. McClellan vowed that Jimmy'd be here next week to tell, among numerous other things, all he knew under oath about the overall business. (United Features Syndicate)

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—My service to the readers does not ordinarily include advice on how to turn a fast buck, but a quick way to make money is to apply for a radio or television franchise and let a rival applicant buy you off. If you hurry, you can do this with the blessing of the Federal Communications Commission.

I stress the need for speed because the FCC is becoming increasingly uneasy about this situation. I talked to Commissioner Robert E. Lee and he said that he and his fellow commissioners were beginning to have a feeling—vague as this minute—that maybe something should be done about it.

But right now—as the end of this humid July—the FCC takes the stand that it is none of its business if—and how rival applicants get together. The Commission has been known to entertain some very individualistic ideas, and one of them still is that if a petitioner tries to buy off another, the FCC should smile benignly.

This is subject to change with very little notice because the Federal Communications commissioners have had an increasing number of buy-offs brought to their attention, and if there is one thing they do not care for these days it is having disturbing things brought to their attention. Or the public's attention, either.

THE FCC HAS become very skittish about practically everything, but especially the granting of radio and TV station licenses, since the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight took to investigating influence-wielding. It desires to be drawn into as few contests as possible. That is why it is wavering about doing anything if one petitioner induces others to withdraw before the case comes to the FCC for final decision.

The Commission would infinitely prefer that the field be narrowed down to a single applicant so it couldn't be charged with favoring one over another—but isn't sure how much longer it can exercise its preference without stirring up the kind of clamor it has come to abominate. It is especially concerned about an application for a radio station in Los Angeles.

THERE HAVE been three major applicants for this franchise. One of them is Charles R. Bramlett, of Torrance, Calif. Another is Radio Orange County, Inc., of Anaheim, Calif. Notice has actually been filed that Bramlett has pulled out upon payment from Radio Orange County of $10,000—with the consent and blessing of the FCC.

The notice says the 10 Big Ones are to reimburse Bramlett for his "out of pocket" expenses in seeking the license. This would seem to be a fair amount of money to come out of a pocket.

A third contestant for the franchise is Latin American Broadcasting, of which Lazaro Castro, of Los Angeles, is the prime mover. Castro hasn't pulled out yet, but he is muttering darkly that Radio Orange County has been attempting to panic him into accepting "out of pocket" expenses to withdraw his application.

I'm afraid I've just been slow in discovering the possibilities that the twin arts of radio and television have to offer. Apparently very little special equipment is needed. Any neighborhood tailor will install a bigger pocket. (King Features, Inc.)

COAL STRIKE ENDS — The strike in the Pennsylvania bituminous coal fields came to an end today following the intervention of President Roosevelt. Terms of the pact, arrived at under the direction of Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the National Recovery Act, have not been disclosed pending further moves to make it rock-ribbed for effectiveness.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE—Spokesmen for the Roosevelt administration today said the six-week-old industrial control movement for higher wages and shorter work hours has exceeded expectations. The rapid spread of the program is credited to voluntary agreements by employers, and through putting into effect, pending hearings, the labor terms of codes advanced by business and industrial groups.

HEADS LOCAL NRA—Former Mayor Thomas W. Keon has been named director of the NRA committee here. Much progress has been reported in furthering the recovery program locally, with spokesmen for the organization reporting that there is little opposition to the "Blue Eagle" code.

200 West Virginians Apply For Retirement

By JERRY GOULD
United Press International
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Teachers Retirement Board meets here Aug. 13 with applications for retirement of more than 200 West Virginia school instructors to be considered.

This session will be unique in that it will mark the first heavy concentration of teacher eligible for both the state stipend and social security benefits.

Instructors in public schools, state colleges and West Virginia University were first covered by the retirement board in 1941. First participation in the federal program was two years ago.

Dr. Richard E. Hyde, executive secretary of the board, said many teachers had stayed on the rolls an extra two years in order to collect social security.

"We may hit 250 in retirement applications before this month's meeting," Hyde said. "Some of these people had intended to retire before but decided to take advantage of the extra money."

Hyde pointed out that the retirement roll fluctuates with the school year. He said that during the summer months, it averages about 3,400, but during the fall and winter it drops down to around 3,000 when some of those who received benefits return to teaching.

Employment Crisis Faces Britishers

Effect Of U. S. Recession Appears To Be In Offing

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—The shadow of unemployment gathered like an angry small cloud over Britain today.

It still is not on a scale to compare with the grim Thirties, when some two million Britons were jobless.

But for the first time in 20 years the threat of large scale unemployment is ringing alarm bells in this country. Both government and labor unions fear Britain and much of continental Europe may be whipped by the backlash of the U.S. recession next winter.

The result, they fear, may be the highest unemployment since the breadlines and hunger riots of the early Thirties.

About 450,000 Britons, or a little more than two per cent of the nation's working force, are jobless at the moment. That still falls far short of the seven per cent of the labor force out of jobs in the United States.

Labor Leaders Worried
But it is enough to flash red lights in government and labor union offices.

A worried deputation from the Trades Union Congress, Britain's largest labor organization, called on Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Ernest Brown, and warned that if the present trend continues there will be 750,000 jobless by January.

The deputation appealed to the government to prime the economic pumps and come up with a new budget in the fall in which it would increase its own spending, cut taxes and restore investment cuts.

But the chancellor told them his first priority was to maintain the strength of the pound and keep prices stable. He refused to press any panic buttons for the time being.

Restrictions Eased
However, the government earlier this year began easing the economic screws it applied last fall when the country was threatened with runaway inflation and bankruptcy.

The bank rate already has been pushed down twice from seven per cent to its present five per cent. A further cutback to four-and-a-half per cent is widely predicted. The credit squeeze on bank lending has been lifted.

Just before Parliament left on its summer recess, the government lifted all restrictions on industrial building projects in areas where unemployment is above the national average.

Britons are worried because unemployment is beginning to hit the basic industries on which the nation's whole economic prosperity stands or falls — coal mining, iron and steel, transport, agriculture, fishing and merchant shipping.

Mailman Beats Heat, And PO Regulations

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass. (AP)—Mailman Lester J. Newton went on his rounds in Bermuda shorts, but still was in regulation uniform. He said he learned the shorts were permissible if the regular uniform trousers were used. His wife merely cut down a pair of old uniform trousers.

Translation Center

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The federal government has set up a center to provide American scientists and industrialists with translations of Soviet technical information. Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks reported today.

Stocks Withstanding Recession

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Plain Janes have been doing very well in the recession, thank you.

In the stock market these are usually called defensive stocks. They are the ones that in bull markets excite no wolf whistles from the traders. The Plain Janes go their prim way, moving upward slowly and offering no quick killings for the in-and-outers.

In bull markets all eyes are on their more glamorous sisters, the growth stocks, which can move rapidly higher in price and offer chances for big profits later on.

In the business world the Plain Janes are the ones most likely during a recession to register increased earnings as usual, while the erstwhile glamor girls may be looking shabby indeed.

And in both the stock market and the business world of profit and loss statements these defensive industries have been proving their market baskets. Food, its running 4 per cent over a year ago. It had larger year to year increases when industry was booming — but the steady going consumer has kept profits of the government regulated utilities on even keel.

The 15 utility stocks on the Associated Press price index have risen with few bobbles from the low point of the year of 73 on January 2 to 82 at the end of July, while the industrials have had sharp rising and sinking spells.

World's highest inhabited town is Gorki, busy trading center in western Tibet, which is at 15,100 feet above sea level.

It is a rare person indeed who has turned off the refrigerator, or freezer, or furnace, or had his phone taken out. And New York's long hot and muggy spell has sent its power consumption to a record high because of the increased use of air conditioners.

The utility industry reports profit back much, if any, on the content

Job Removed By Council For Economy

City Hall Position Affects Stenographer On Leave Of Absence

City Council this morning abolished one City Hall position, appointed a probationary member of the Fire Department and confirmed three other persons as employees of the city.

Abolished was the junior stenographer position that had been held by Mrs. Ruth V. Morgan, presently on a leave of absence. The position was removed as an economy move, and it was stressed in the order that no reflection was intended on the efficiency of Mrs. Morgan.

The order also stipulated that her name be placed on the top of the list in that category and that she be given preference when occasion arises for the hiring of a junior stenographer.

Fireman Hired

Darius Dietle was approved as a probationary member of the Fire Department, Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming explained that the new man was needed as a replacement for a member of the department who has resigned.

Confirmed as regular members of the Police Department were Richard L. Maier, effective August 2, and Kenneth L. Henry, effective August 1. Carl C. Shafer was confirmed as a regular member of the Fire Department, effective July 29.

The city engineer's report indicated that no occupancy permits were granted last month. There were five sewer permits issued in July. Fees collected by his office in July amounted to $389.40.

Sewage Fees $17,807

The July report of City Tax Collector George E. Davis revealed collections totaling $66,307.15. This amount included $4,016.19 in 1957 taxes, with interest in the amount of $203.47; $1,779.05 in 1956 taxes, with interest in the amount of $193.39, and $56.05 in 1955 taxes, with interest of .99.

Sewage fees for July amounted to $17,807.88, and water fees totaled $40,819.63.

Council authorized issuance of a check in the amount of $28.88 to Charles Paul Roeder for services to the Zoning Board in a 1956 court action.

Also authorized were two checks to J. Wallace Close, county tax collector, both for payment of taxes on land sought or used by the city. One check was for $24.02 for taxes on land purchased in connection with the new National Guard Armory which will be constructed in the Ridgedale Addition, and the other in the amount of $6.40 for taxes on Fairmont Avenue property which will be used in the future by the City Recreation Department.

Playlot Plans Dance Event

Participants from all city playgrounds have been invited to compete in the rock and roll contest Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at Centre Street playlot. Cash prizes will be awarded the winners.

A button show at 7 p. m. today will be followed by a dance for the teenage club. Tomorrow at 7 p. m. a paper costume show will be followed by movies at dusk.

Thursday and Friday the children will get their crafts ready for the city-wide exhibit.

Those going to the fishing rodeo on Saturday must register by Friday.

Winners in a recent live animal show were Debbie Parker, Carol Hayman, Barbara Plummer, Toni Snow, Diane Geatz, Millo Schoenadel, Louis Gero and Susie Keyser.

Flower show winners were Ronald Geatz, Debbie Parker, Susie Keyser, David Lupetti and Diane Geatz.

Change Recommended

City Council this morning received a recommendation from the Civil Service Commission that the equipment operator at the city dump and seasonal employees for mosquito control be assigned to the Department of Streets and Public Property. Such employees formerly were under the City Health Department.

Truck Loaded With Eggs In Area Mishap

MEYERSDALE, Pa. (UPI)—The automobile of Garrett H. Barnes Jr., 32, Pittsburgh, went out of control on Route 219 Sunday night. It crashed into a truck operated by Charles R. Earle, 36, Indiana County.

The truck was loaded with eggs. Not an egg was cracked. Barnes' wife suffered cuts and bruises.

The vehicles had $5,700 damage.

City Grants Permission For Trailer

Municipal Workers Union Requests Increase In Pay

The City Engineer was authorized by the Mayor and Council this morning to grant a temporary permit to Robert E. Yonker to place a house trailer on property where he resides on Woodside Avenue.

Yonker requested such permission last week, explaining that use of the trailer was needed as living quarters until improvement work on his home was completed.

It was explained that the trailer would be hooked up to the city's sewer and water systems. All members of the council, except Finance Commissioner John J. Long, approved temporary permit.

Cites Prohibiting Law
Long explained his opposition by pointing out that the City Code contains an ordinance prohibiting trailers from occupying locations other than stipulated trailer courts.

Council received a request for a wage increase for employees of the street and water departments and workers at the Lake Gordon filtration plant, but deferred action pending budget meetings this week.

The request was made in a letter by C. W. Shipes, president of Local 812 of the Municipal Employees Union. Shipes' letter pointed out that the workers had received no increase in the past four years, and that no cost-of-living adjustment had been made in that time.

Salary Compared
The letter also stated that the rate on contractor jobs ranged from $1.26 to $2.16 per hour, while the hourly city wage scale was $1.54. The wages for employees at Lake Gordon range from $1 an hour to $2.39 per month, Shipes wrote.

Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk, presented a report on receipts for July. A total of $809.50 was reported received by Ullery, with bingo and admission tax amounting to $762.90. Licenses totaled $85; produce permits, $2.50; and the Sunday movie tax, $59.10.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming submitted a report that revealed the Police Department had made 957 arrests in July, while fines collected amounted to $1,388. The Fire Department answered 23 calls for the month, with only minor damage being reported. The report included a recommendation for the painting of the Police Department.

Children Take Swim Lessons

East Side Playground has started its second week of swimming lessons for children registered there.

The group leaves daily at 10:30 a. m. from the playlot for Constitution Park Pool.

The bus for the fishing rodeo at Oldtown will leave Friday at 9 a. m. Wednesday will be picnic day and the pet show Thursday at 7:30 p. m. will be followed by a dance until 10 p. m.

Area Students Get Degrees At Strayer

David A. Dawson, son of Mrs. Naomi Dawson, 12 Boone Street, and Joseph William Elkins Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Elkins, Frostburg, were graduated recently from Strayer College, Washington, July 19. Both received the bachelor of commercial science degree.

Dawson, also a graduate of Fort Hill High School, is employed by Heppner Mechanical Engineers, Washington. Elkins is a graduate of Beall High School.

Freight Shed Removal Scheduled In Two Weeks

The Western Maryland Railway's Cumberland freight warehouse and office is in operation in new quarters on Canal Street and railroad workers will soon begin razing the shed and office on South Mechanic Street.

Sidney George, Western Division engineer, said all work is being done by the engineering department crews.

They are now removing doors and other furnishings from the interior of the freight shed and office on South Mechanic Street and in two weeks will begin tearing down the buildings.

The two tracks supplying the shed on North Mechanic Street will be torn up, and the area graded for a public parking lot.

After blacktopping the area, which will hold approximately 100 cars, the railroad will lease the parking concession to a professional parking lot concern.

The addition of the lot will add greatly to the downtown shopping center, which has experienced a dearth of parking facilities in the past.

HAS DELICATE OPERATION—Eleven-year-old Margaret Ann Calderwood of Cash Valley Road, shown above with her mother, Mrs. M. D. Calderwood, is going over some of the many cards she has received since undergoing a very delicate heart operation June 18 in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore. Her activities will be limited until the recuperative period is over, but she will be able to go back to school this fall.

Girl Recuperating From Heart Surgery

A LaVale family has had a happy summer—one that saw a 11-year-old girl undergo successfully a delicate heart operation.

Miss Margaret Ann Calderwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Calderwood, Cash Valley Road, is taking things easy since her operation on June 18.

Margaret Ann's physician took her to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for examination in February 1957 when it appeared she was suffering from a heart ailment.

She underwent a heart catheterization to determine the location of the defect and then on June 18 she had a angiogram, or dye test.

The doctors found a large opening in the heart wall in the upper chamber of the heart.

The specialists told the girl's parents that operations of this nature have proved quite successful so the operation was scheduled June 18.

They used a hypo-therapy treatment on Margaret Ann for the duration of the surgery, being packed in ice to lower her body temperature.

The operation lasted for three and a half hours and during it the surgeons found another opening in the heart wall which the tests had not revealed.

Margaret Ann will be a sixth grader at LaVale School in September. Her mother reported that she may attend classes, but all other activity has been limited until October 15.

That is the day when she returns to Johns Hopkins for a checkup.

Golf Classes Planned Here

The City Recreation Department is tentatively planning a second series of golf classes beginning tomorrow at Fort Cumberland golf course, Oldtown Road.

The department said between 15 and 20 are needed for the classes and those interested should call the department at PA 2-7660.

Richard Buskey, pro at Cumberland Country Club, will be instructor. The classes will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6 p. m. and 7 p. m. and include six lessons. A fee of $5 will be charged. Equipment will be available but those who have them are asked to bring their own clubs.

Twenty beginners took the first series of lessons last June.

Breaking And Entering, Larceny Case Reported

City Police today were investigating a breaking and entering and larceny case reported over the weekend.

Police said someone used a ladder to climb 11 feet into an open window at McIntyre's Store on Cumberland Street Saturday. The intruder took several cartons of beer and a number of cigarettes.

Eugene Wiseman, 73 Greene Street, reported two ash trays and a windshield wiper blade stolen from his car which was parked on Greene Street.

Council Acts In Closing Of Alleyway

Nine Residents Oppose Change In Thoroughfare

Action on an ordinance calling for the closing of an unnamed alley parallel to Frederick Street was held over to next Monday after the ordinance advanced to its third reading at this morning's City Council session.

The closing of the alley had been requested by Frank J. Diamond who is building a new residence on the site in question. The alley, which runs between Forester and Schlunt avenues, had been approved for closing by City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum.

State Senator Charles M. See appeared in opposition to the closing, although it was brought out that he originally had been in favor of the plan.

Is "Paper" Alley
Thomas B. Finan, former city solicitor, appeared as attorney for Mrs. F. J. Diamond, explaining that the land was "only a paper" alley which had not been used by the city for more than 25 years.

A petition carrying the names of residents of the area also was introduced the closing. The petition was signed by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Judy; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Powell; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Brann; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Pfeiffer and Jack Innes. The names of State Senator and Mrs. See were also on the petition, but appeared to have been erased. Judy also spoke against the proposed closing, and when a negative vote was cast after the third reading action was automatically held over until next Monday's session of Council.

Fleming Wants Check
The negative vote was made by Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming, who said he would like to see the property in question before casting a final vote.

An ordinance for sewerage and improving a portion of Memorial Avenue was tabled, while an order for the payment of paving costs on Regina Avenue was approved. The Regina Avenue paving was completed in June at a cost of $5,014.20.

Council also approved granting a building permit at no cost to the Vandegrift Construction Company for work on Johnson Heights School, members of the group being informed such action was customary when improvements were being done to public buildings.

A permit for blasting required in construction of a residence on Calvert Terrace was approved by Council when it was explained the customary regulations will be complied with. The house is being built by George Griffith, 733 Washington Street.

Local Damage Suit Settled

Papers were filed in Allegany County Circuit Court today in the settlement of a damage suit arising out of injuries suffered by a boy when struck by a car on McMullen Highway in Cresap town.

The declaration stated that Richard Samuel Hedrick was walking along U. S. Route 220 last May 6 when he was struck by a car operated by William P. Wise, McMullen Highway. The boy suffered lacerations and abrasions of the head and hands and also a concussion. He was hospitalized.

Ered H. Anderson, attorney for the plaintiff, filed the papers showing the settlement was for $500.

Thruway Start Is Postponed To Tomorrow

Ground breaking ceremonies for the beginning of the Cumberland Thruway have been deferred until tomorrow at 1:30 p. m., according to Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

The brief ceremonies will be held at Fifth and Seymour streets, near where the Cumberland Contracting Company will begin work on the Industrial Highway, the Line C section of the Thruway.

Construction was slated to begin today but was deferred due to rain.

Bids Opened For Projects In District

Fuller Low Firm For Dormitory Work At FSTC

A number bids on projects in the area were announced today.

James C. Fuller and Sons, Frostburg, were the low bidders on alterations and installation of showers and rest rooms in the men's and women's dormitories at Frostburg State Teachers College. The firm bid $11,780 on the project.

Other bidders were Russell Hamilton, Inc., Westernport; $12,320; and Orrie Sensabaugh, Cumberland, $13,534.

To Lay Road Base

The Terra Alta Limestone Company was the low bidder at $174,232 on the traffic base course and surface treatment of W. Va. Rt. 42, known as the Forman Road, in Grant County. Bids on the job were asked by the West Virginia Roads Commission.

Bids on two projects in Berkeley County, W. Va., have also been received. The Corby Construction Company of Morgantown was low bidder on both projects.

One project includes a dual three-span overhead bridge at Hainesville with spans of 33, 51 and 33 feet. The bridge will have a concrete deck and concrete substructure. The Corby firm offered to do the work for $105,550.

Pipeline Job Starts
The second job is a three-span overhead bridge at Falling Waters. The spans will be 31, 45 and 31 feet and be of the same type as the Hainesville bridge. The Corby firm bid $100,850 on the project.

Meanwhile, work has begun on a $2,093,000 gas pipeline project in Hardy and Pendleton counties by the Atlantic Seaboard Company.

The 26-inch loop line will run between Seneca and Lost River a distance of 17.7 miles. It will provide greater peak-load capacity of gas for the Baltimore and Washington metropolitan areas.

The work is being done by the Pipeline Maintenance Construction Company of Camp Hill, Pa.

P.O. Reports New Mail Rate Trouble Lessens

The Cumberland Post Office reported that the trouble experienced with the changeover to higher postal rates had shown some lessening yesterday.

On Friday the number of letters with insufficient postage ran high, but yesterday the percentage of mail with correct postage was higher. Local postal officials said it will probably take about a month for people to get used to the new rates.

There was not much of a rush by the public to beat the higher postage rates, which went into effect at midnight Thursday.

The five-cent penalty for mail which does not have enough postage has been lifted for 90 days to give the public time to become accustomed to the higher rates but postage due will be collected.

City Budget Meeting Planned Thursday

The budgets of the various city departments will be submitted for consideration at a meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the office of Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

The early action is necessary since the budget must be officially adopted by August 25.

Five Youths Charged In Wave Of Burglaries

Five area youths have been charged in connection with a number of establishments in Cumberland and the area early Friday morning.

Police said at DeHaven's in Corrigansville they took 12 fifths of liquor, while two half-gallon bottles were stolen from Ruffo's in Mt. Savage.

Two of the youths were arrested on Prospect Square by Sgt. James W. Brown of the City Police early Friday morning.

After questioning the pair at Police Headquarters the two implicated the other three who were picked up by state police.

Sunny Skies Experienced After Deluge

1.55 Inches Of Rain Falls Here Within 24 Hours

After three days of heavy rainfall and high humidity Cumberland area residents today had their first glimpse of the sun.

The forecast calls for clearing and warmer this afternoon with the temperature ranging from 80 to 86 degrees. It will be fair and pleasant tonight with the temperature in the low 60s. Tomorrow will be sunny and dry with moderate temperatures. On Wednesday it will be partly cloudy and warm with evening thunderstorms likely.

Yesterday's rainfall amounted to 1.55 inches, which is twice as much as during the entire month of August last year. Last year only .77 of an inch fell. That was the driest August in 76 years. The previous driest August was in 1881 when only .31 of an inch of rain fell.

Coffer Dam Hit

Rising water in Wills Creek badly damaged a coffer dam erected by the George F. Hazelwood Company in the creek bed to allow the construction of the pier for new Western Maryland Railway bridge at Baltimore Street.

Steel piling used as the main support of the coffer dam was bent back three or four feet at the upper end of the dam. Damage to other sections of the flood control project in the creek was not extensive, according to company officials. Work on the project will have to wait until the water recedes.

Harry Skelly, county roads supervisor, said there was some damage to roads from the heavy rains during the past few days.

Road Washed Out

A section of the road along Laurel Run in the Moscow area was washed out by the rushing waters of the stream. One-way traffic was set up at the washed out section, Skelly said. County road crews were making repairs today.

Ditches in the Dogwood Flat section near Barton filled with debris and caused some washing of the road in that area. Dirt and rocks from a side road washed onto the hard surfaced highway into the Mt. Savage School yesterday. The shoulders of the school road were damaged by the water. Roads crews were cleaning up the debris today, Skelly said.

In nearby West Virginia there was not any appreciable damage report.

Bridge Hauled Back

The district office of the West Virginia Roads Commission at Keyser reported a small bridge was washed downstream a short distance in Hardy County yesterday. It was used by several families and was later found and hauled back to its former site.

Other than this, there was no damage of any amount in the West Virginia section covered by the Keyser office. Streams rose more than usual for the summer months, but no damage was reported.

Southwestern Pennsylvania was hit by heavy rainfall which washed out a bridge, caused a landslide and resulted in a heavy fog covering the Greater Pittsburgh Airport for six hours and halting air traffic.

A number of roads were blocked by swirling waters and in Hays, Pa., worshippers leaving Holy Angels Church found two feet of water on the steps.

Playlot Plans Jitterbug Event

The Lamont Street Playground will have a jitterbug dance contest tonight.

Tomorrow at 7 p. m. a stuffed animal show is scheduled and games will also be held tonight and Friday night. A movie will be shown Thursday evening at dusk.

Winners in last week's flower show were Roberta Bates, Patricia Walker and Phyllis Smith. Winners in the rock and roll contest were Martha Hedrick, Freeman Welsh, Phyllis Smith and Carolyn Wilfong.

Anyone from the playground who plans to attend the fishing rodeo Saturday must sign up by Thursday.

HUGE LEMON—Mrs. R. C. Marker, above, 522 Williams Street, is shown holding the large lemon that is growing on her lemon plant in the sun parlor of her home. The lemon, compared with another of normal size, is 12 inches in diameter around the middle and 14 inches the other way. The three and one-half foot tree is seven years old and has been bearing lemons for the past four years. There are five others on the tree now.

SPORTS KEG

Staff Sgt. Carl Nave, the former Bedford High athletic stand-out, is continuing his phenomenal record as a softball pitcher in the Air Force.

Sgt. Nave, who is married to the former Helen M. Cessna of Cumberland, has posted a 6-0 record with the Headquarters Squadron Group at Plattsburgh (N. Y.) Air Base with about half the season completed.

Last year, the 27-year-old native of Centerville rolled up a 26-0 mark while pitching for Eielson Field in Alaska, three of those wins being no-hitters. He is still regarded as the best softball pitcher ever seen around the Alaskan air base.

The fireballing right-hander began his softball career in the Philippines and has been pitching for nine years. He attended Fordham University for three years following two years of duty in the Philippines and Korea.

One of five athletic brothers, Carl suffered a football injury at Bedford that resulted in him becoming a softball star. After a broken right elbow mended, he found that he could no longer throw, overhanded and he began hurling with an underhand motion. Today, Carl can throw as hard underhanded as he once did overhanded.

Four of the Nave brothers played at Bedford while Alton, the oldest, was a baseball star at Cumberland's Allegany High. Carl was preceded at Bedford by Lloyd and Veryl and followed by Glenn.

Sgt. Nave, who played service football in 1946 at Okinawa, plans to make the Air Force a career.

Bucs Hold Record

How about that amazing pitching the Pittsburgh Pirates have been getting lately? Buc hurlers have posted 22 consecutive scoreless innings in a day that finds the baseball containing a jack-rabbit instead of cork for a center.

But if you are of the opinion that the Bucs' struggle hold on the Cardinals is close to the major league record, you're wrong.

The Pirates hold the record, all right, but it was the team of 1903 that turned the trick. The dead ball was used then.

The 1903 Bucs, managed by Fred Clarke, had a June spree which saw them win by scores of 7-0, 5-0, 5-0, 2-0, 4-0 and 2-0, to set the record at six games. The record for shutout innings was set in the same string, 56, combining parts of two other games.

Pittsburgh's current streak against St. Louis is three games and 32 innings. This left the Cardinals perilously close to the record of consecutive defeat shutouts—four. When the suspended game is completed on September 16, the Cards could equal the dubious consecutive goose-eggs game mark.

The Boston Braves lost four straight shutouts in 1906. So did the Boston Red Sox of 1906. St. Louis Browns in 1913, Cincinnati in 1908 and Cincinnati again in 1913.

St. Louis' current 32 runless innings are 13 away from the NL mark held by Cincinnati in 1931, and 16 from the major league figure, charged to the Philadelphia A's in 1906.

Another Brave-Yankee World Series Likely

Milwaukee Hikes Lead Over Giants To 5 Games

By MILTON RICHMAN United Press International

You can tear up those tickets for San Francisco, but don't worry because it'll still be a "California World Series" after all—between Los Angeles resident Fred Haney and Casey Stengel of Glendale.

Milwaukee's back-on-the-beam Braves took care of that little item Sunday when they bolted five games ahead of the National League pack by thumping the faltering Giants twice, 4-3 and 6-0.

Oh, Haney wouldn't definitely admit his Braves were "in" yet today and Bill Rigney likewise would not concede his Giants were licked, but whom do they think they're kidding?

Bob Trowbridge and Joe Adcock polled their talents to give Milwaukee its victory in the opener. Trowbridge pitched seven innings of hitless ball in relief for his first victory. Adcock drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the eighth.

Haris 43rd Shutout

Southpaw Warren Spahn registered the 43rd shutout of his career and 14th win of the season when he hurled a four-hitter in the nightcap.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, getting the finest pitching in both leagues, took the opener from the St. Louis Cardinals, 2-0, and led by the same score in the nightcap which was suspended in the fifth inning because of Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law.

Bob Friend pitched the third straight shutout by a Pirate hurler to notch his 14th triumph in the opener. Rookie George Witt was working on a four-hitter in the nightcap which will be resumed with Pittsburgh batting in the bottom of the fifth on Sept. 16.

Alex Kellner, an American League discards, scored his fourth victory for Cincinnati by defeating Los Angeles, 3-1, in the nightcap following a 10-inning 8-6 triumph by the Dodgers in the opener.

Drysdale Gets Homer

Losers Don Drysdale helped himself to a 1-0 lead with a third-inning homer in the nightcap and held that margin until the seventh when the Redlegs scored three runs. That ended a string of nine straight wins by the Dodgers over the Redlegs this season.

Pinch-hitter Elmer Valo and Jim Gilliam singled home the two runs in the 10th that won the opener for Los Angeles.

Ray Semproch scored his 13th victory in leading the Phillies to an 8-2 opening game decision but the Cubs bounced back to take the nightcap, 12-10.

Semproch drove in two runs as the Phils rallied for five off Taylor Phillips in the third inning of the opener and Philadelphia looked as if it was going to make a sweep by coming up with five runs in the first inning of the nightcap. The Cubs, however, cut that to 5-3 and then put together a pair of four-run rallies in the fifth and seventh to offset another five-run outburst by Philadelphia in the ninth.

Sweep Yankees

Over in the American League, the White Sox vaulted into third place by sweeping a twin-bill from the Yankees, 3-1 and 4-0. Even so, the Yankees still are 15½ games ahead.

Dick Donovan held the Yanks to three hits in beating Whitey Ford and posting his eighth victory in the opener. Ray Moore followed with a five-hit shutout for his seventh victory in the finale.

So flexible is the AL race that Cleveland dropped from second place to fifth by losing a doubleheader to Boston, 3-2 and 4-2. Ted Williams' 18th homer with one on in the ninth off Gary Bell gave the Red Sox their victory in the opener. Boston won the nightcap with a four-run rally in the eighth inning at the expense of loser Ray Narleski and Hoyt Wilhelm.

Paul Foytack and Billy Hoefft pitched the Tigers to a sweep over the Orioles, 3-2 and 4-1. Each yielded eight hits and was credited with his eighth victory as Detroit stretched its winning streak to six games and Baltimore's losing streak at seven games.

Kansas City beat Washington, 12-0, in the first game, then lost the 15-inning nightcap, 4-3. Eddie Yost singled home the winning run off Murrey Dickson in the finale to earn Pedro Ramos his 10th triumph. Ralph Terry tossed a five-hitter for his seventh victory in the opener.

Ray Moore Real Tough On Yankees

CHICAGO (AP)—"Just can't throw those guys any fast balls," drawled Chicago White Sox pitcher Ray Moore Sunday after he beat the New York Yankees for the third time this season and shut them out twice in a row.

Moore blanked the American League leaders 4-0 on five hits after teammate Dick Donovan whipped them 3-1 in the first game on only three hits.

"All five hits they got off'n me were on fast balls," groaned Moore. "Hey, Dick, what they hit off'n you?"

"Curve ball, slider, fast ball," answered Donovan.

Just Lucky, Says Moore

"Well, guess they do get hits on other pitchers," said Moore, whom the Yankees haven't beaten yet this season.

What's the reason for this success?

"Guess, I'm just lucky," said Moore, who has a 7-3 record and only three complete games—all against New York.

"I've been pitching good, but against these other teams, something always seems to happen."

Sox Manager Al Lopez had a different explanation.

"He's a good pitcher with real good stuff," said Lopez. "I guess he's one of those guys who does better against tougher competition."

Phenomenal Against Yanks

Moore, a 32-year-old from Upper Marlboro, Md., came to the Sox in a multi-player deal with Baltimore last winter. When the Sox made the deal, Lopez admitted Moore was the man he wanted because "he can beat the Yankees."

Moore has been phenomenal against New York. He has made four starts, winning three and losing none. In all, he has worked 29 innings against the Yankees, giving up 19 hits and only 5 earned runs.

Haney Like Man Holding Record Ticket On Double

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves today was like a man holding the winning tickets of a record daily double who hesitates to celebrate until he collects at the payoff window.

The job his National League leaders did dismantling the ambitious San Francisco Giants Sunday didn't move him to make any rash statements. His Braves now have won six in a row while the Giants have lost six straight.

"I'm playing it no different from last year," said the ever-careful Haney after the Braves completed a sweep of a critical four-game series by taking a pair from the Giants 4-3 and 6-0. "One game at a time."

"Oh, sure," he continued when prodded by his listeners. "These four games were important and our five-game lead is comfortable. It gives us a cushion, but don't forget one little losing streak and we're right back with the pack. Now we'll concentrate on Pittsburgh. The Pirates are our next opponents."

Haney then made a statement with which there can be no argument:

"If we keep winning, nobody is going to catch us."

Then the little man with the world championship ball club reviewed the past few weeks, noting the number of injuries the Braves have suffered. Two more of his players, utilitymen Mel Roach and Felix Mantilla, were forced out of action Sunday; Roach with a wrenched left knee that will keep him sidelined at least one month, and Mantilla with cuts about the cheek and mouth.

Haney said if his club can keep its edge through four scheduled doubleheaders in the next 15 days "we'll be in good shape."

Len Matthews St. Nick's Pick

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lightweight Lenny Matthews, Philadelphia's young knockout sensation, is favored at 3-1 to beat Steve Ward tonight in the summer's last TV fight at St. Nicholas Arena.

Matthews, 19, seeks his 13th straight professional victory and his 12th knockout. Only Henry (Pappy) Gault, former U. S. bantamweight champion, lasted the distance against him.

Ward, of Hartford, Conn., 23, is the junior welterweight champion of New England and has faced stiffer opposition.

Pirates Take Mound Magic To Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, whose three-game shutout magic sent the St. Louis Cardinals tumbling into the National League cellar, face the first-place Milwaukee Braves tonight.

Rookie Curt Raydon will try to sustain the scoreless magic of the Pirate hurling staff that began last Friday. Bob Friend registered his 14th victory in the opener of a 6-and-a-half doubleheader at Forbes Field with a 2-0 whitewash over the floundering Cardinals.

Friend Ties 1957 Wins

Rookie George Witt had another shutout going in the nightcap, 2-0, which was suspended by the Pennsylvania Sunday curfew with the Pirates ahead 2-0 and batting in the fifth inning with one man on and two outs. The game will be completed Sept. 16.

The Cardinals now have failed to score in 32 innings.

Friend equalled his 1957 victory production when he helped the Pirates to their 10th victory in 12 games. He allowed nine hits but was supported by some brilliant fielding paced by Bill Mazeroski.

Skinner Hot At Plate

Bill Virdon, who hit his fifth homer in the opening game, singled in the third inning of the nightcap with Vinegar Bend Mizell on the mound.

The speedster advanced on a wild pitch and stole third. Roberto Clemente was thrown out, and Dick Stuart walked. But Virdon was caught in a rundown between third after Frank Thomas bounced out. Bob Skinner singled home Stuart.

Skinner also accounted for the other Pirate run when he singled in the fifth after Stuart doubled to right.

Witt, who gave up only four hits in the suspended game, fanned six batters.

Hermanettes Score Win In State Play

The Old German Hermanettes kept their title hopes alive in the girls' state softball tournament yesterday by whipping the Glenn L. Martin entrant, 10-3, on the Patterson Park Field, Baltimore.

The Hermanettes will play Adams Restaurant, which defeated the locals Saturday, 3-1, next Saturday at 1 p.m. in Baltimore. The Restaurant club lost yesterday, 3-1, on a one-hitter by Johnny's New Cars pitcher, Mary Girklin. The win was the second in a row for Johnny's.

The Oh Gee Gals won yesterday's contest in the second inning when Anabelle Leatherman and Beverly Warnick drew walks. Dot Heavner doubled, Pat Cioni singled. Pat Thompson drew a base on balls and "Ducky" Lease followed with a triple.

The locals added two more in the fifth on singles by Warnick and Heavner and a double by Cioni. Another pair of runs came in the sixth on three Martin errors.

Rose Bowers worked the distance on the hill for the Hermanettes, striking out five and yielding just five singles.

Lease's triple and single; Cioni's double and single. Dot Heavner's double and single. Cora Leatherman's three-bagger and one-base knocks by Bowers and Warnick accounted for the Hermanettes' nine hits.

Peter Collins Killed In Race

NUERBURGRING, Ger. (UPI)—Peter Collins, 27, an English auto racing driver who ranked fourth in this year's world championship standings, is the latest victim of Europe's blood-stained grand prix circuit.

Collins died Sunday night of a fractured skull and brain injuries after his Ferrari ran amok during Sunday's Grand Prix of Germany and hurled him onto the Nuerburg's concrete track.

While Britain's Tony Brooks won the race, Collins was taken to the nearby Adenau Hospital by German army helicopter and received a blood transfusion. Then he was taken to the Bonn University Clinic where German doctors fought a futile battle to save his life.

Lack Tackle Depth Cited By Steelers

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (UPI)—Pittsburgh Steelers Coach Buddy Parker took time today to sum up the squad's progress as the training season went into its second week.

"Frankly, I'm surprised at our strength in receivers," he said. "Our immediate problem is lack of depth of tackles. The halfbacks will be questionable but the fullback problem seems to be resolving itself."

"We should be good in our quarterback department. Our defensive unit was good last year and appears stronger this season. We need more strength at the center position."

Jon Evans, former Oklahoma A&M star and Don Bishop, a free agent from Los Angeles, College, surprised the Steelers coaches with their ability to catch passes. The two newcomers will spell off veterans Ray Mathews and Jack McClair.

At the beginning of the training season Parker was concerned about the fullback post. But the acquisition of Tank Younger from the Los Angeles Rams and the potential of Larry Krutko, West Virginia University alumnus, were heartening.

Krutko will not report to camp until after the All-Star game, but West Virginia Coach Art (Pappy) Lewis on a visit here last week assured Parker his protege will fit into the professional style.

Venturi Leads Open By Three

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ken Venturi was going away today toward his biggest purse, the $8,000 top prize in the $50,000 Glenageles Open.

The 27-year-old San Francisco pro boasted a three stroke lead on the field going into the last round of the 72 hole tournament, 10 strokes under par with an even 200 for his 54 holes, attained by three sub-par rounds of 65, 67 and 68.

Only three other players in the field of 60-odd survivors who will go the last 18 today have the same record, always under par for the event. The closest of these, Don January, Eastland, Tex., and Jack Burke Jr., Klamath Lake, N. Y., trailed by three strokes at 203. The fourth, Gary Player, Johannesburg, South Africa, has 204.

Thirteen players shot better than Venturi and eight others shot as well, but all were erratic in earlier rounds and none could come close to the flying Californian.

CCC, Maplehurst Club Play Sunday

The Cumberland Country Club's golf team will try to make it four in a row over the Maplehurst Club of Frostburg Sunday when the two teams meet on the Frostburg links.

The locals hold a 3-0 edge over Maplehurst, including this season's opener which Cumberland topped, 50 to 30. Sunday's match is slated for 10 a. m.

The Maplehurst women will test the CCC women Tuesday at 10 a. m. on the Maplehurst course.

Tucker Mason won the straight handicap tournament held over the weekend with a net score of 84-13-71. Players with flags on par three holes were Dr. Royce Hodges, No. 1; Joe Wolfe, Nos. 6 and 12; Mason, No. 15, and Bill George, No. 18.

Injured Birds Open With Yanks Tonight

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles return to friendly Memorial Stadium tonight nursing various wounds inflicted during a seven-game losing streak, but things could get worse before they start improving.

The Birds run smack into the league-leading New York Yankees in a three-game series. And to compound the miseries, Baltimore's slugging catcher, Gus Triandos, may miss the series because of a back ailment.

Big Gus injured his back in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader with the Detroit Tigers and was forced out of action in the sixth inning of the nightcap in obvious pain.

X-Rays Monday

Trainer Eddie Weidner said the trouble may be muscular, but added X-rays will be necessary to determine how badly the catcher may be hurt.

Weidner said the trouble was not related to a hairline fracture. Triandos suffered in his lower lumbar region earlier this season.

But even with Triandos in the lineup, the Orioles have been dropping steadily in the American League race for runner-up honors behind the Yanks. They now stand sixth, still only 2½ games behind the second place Boston Red Sox but just a half game above seventh place Kansas City.

The pressure seems to be telling. Manager Paul Richards was thrown out of each game yesterday as the Tigers won 3-2 and 4-1 to bring an end to a disastrous road trip that started out promisingly. The Birds won four of their first six games to tie for second place before going into a tailspin.

Nieman Ejected

Richards was ejected in the eighth inning of the first game when Gene Woodling was thrown out on a close play at first base. Woodling also got the thumb.

In the fifth inning of the nightcap, the entire Oriole team charged onto the field when Umpire John Flaherty called a home run by Detroit's Harvey Kuenn a fair ball.

Left fielder Bob Nieman was thrown from the game for tossing his hat and glove into the air after call. Richards followed him into the clubhouse and about 15 towels from the Oriole dugout were thrown onto the field.

Mil Pappas (7-5) was the first game loser, giving up six hits and all the runs in four innings. Ken Lehman pitched four innings of scoreless relief but the Orioles couldn't reach Paul Foytack for the tying run.

The only runs for Baltimore came in the fifth on Willie Miranda's single, a double by Dick Williams, an outfield fly and an infield hit by Nieman.

Singles by Williams, Joe Taylor and Nieman produced a quick Bird run in the first inning of the second game, but Billy Hoeltz stymied the offense thereafter. Skinny Brown lost his first game of the season after four victories.

Four Twilight Games Billed

Midland, pacing the Twilight Baseball League with a 14-3 record, will tangle with Lonaconing (10-10) in the latter's bid to retain its hold on fourth place on the Barton diamond in one of four scheduled games for today.

Other contests have Barton tied with Westernport for second place with a 16-4 mark, going against Zihlman (10-11) on the Zihlman field, Westernport hosting Finzel (5-16) and Cumberland (4-14) traveling to Wright's Crossing (4-16).

All games are scheduled to get under way at 5:30 p. m. with the exception of the one at Westernport which will start half an hour later.

Veteran Officials Return To Fairgo

J. Fred Colwill will serve as secretary for the ninth consecutive year. Robert Littleton will be the director of wagering for the fifth straight year and Eddie Blind will find the capacity of official starter for the fourth time when the 34th annual racing meet of the Cumberland Fair Association opens September 15.

A list of other officials has been sent to the Maryland Racing Association for approval or rejection for Cumberland's third 12-day meet which will conclude September 27.

Post-time for the first race each day will be 2 p. m. EDT.

Caseys, Hermans In City Loop Tilt

The nip-and-tuck race in the City Softball League will continue this evening when the Hermans and Caseys of Columbus clash on the East Side Field. Game time is set for 6:15 p. m.

The Old Exports lead the race with a 7-5 record, followed by the Sports Shoppe (7-6), the Hermans (7-7), K of C (6-7) and Chaney's Transportation (5-7).

A win for either team today would move it a notch higher in the standings.

Gurley's, 49ers Battle For Lead

Gurley's Garage and Forty Niners, both unbeaten in the City High School Baseball League's second-half play, will collide today at 6 p. m. on the Fort Hill Field.

Veterans of Foreign Wars and Toy Shop, victims of the setbacks which opened the second half last week, will tangle in a contest set for Stitches Field at the same time.

VFW won the first-half crown, defeating Forty Niners in the playoff game.

Braves' Jay Star Of July For National

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Pitcher Joey Jay, the one-time Little Leaguer now making it "big" with the Milwaukee Braves, today was named the National League's "Player of the Month" for July.

The strapping, 22-year-old right-hander currently is nursing a pulled tendon in his elbow, but there wasn't a thing wrong with him in July. His overall performance last month was such that he earned a clear-cut majority of votes from the 40 baseball writers and broadcasters who make up the selection committee.

Jay received a total of 19 votes to 10½ for runner-up Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs. Banks drew one-half a vote from one committee member, who divided his July ballot between the Cub shortstop and Cincinnati pitcher Bob Purkey.

Pitchers drew most of the ballots. Sam Jones of the St. Louis Cardinals finishing third with five votes; Roy Face of Pittsburgh fourth with two, and Purkey next with 1½.

Outfielder Frank Robinson of Cincinnati and Dick Stuart, the Pirates' rookie first baseman, each drew one vote.

Jay came close to being the majors' most effective pitcher during July. He won five games, including two shutouts, and struck out 46 batters.

Optimist Teams, Lions Play Today

Runnerup Lions will receive a chance today to gain on pacing Kivans (10-3) when battling the seventh-place Rotary Club in a Hot Stove League contest at 3:30 p. m. on the Penn Avenue diamond.

The Lions have a 9-5 record and are one-and-one-half games behind the front-runners.

In another engagement at Penn Avenue, set for 8 p. m., the Bedford Road and Cumberland Optimist nines will clash for the league's fourth spot. Bedford Road currently holds that position with a 7-6 record, while Cumberland is a notch lower with a 4-5 mark.

Yanks Choice At Budapest

WARSAW (UPI)—The touring U. S. track and field team, which has scored victories in men's events over Russia and Poland, was scheduled to leave today for Budapest for a two-day meet against Hungary's top athletes on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Americans, traveling in three special Polish planes, will compete in a 90,000 seat stadium against Hungary.

As in the meets at Moscow last week end and here this week end, the American men's team will be favored.

In the two-day meet concluding here Saturday, the Americans won the men's events, 115-97, while the Polish women defeated the U. S. women, 54-52.

The meet, which drew capacity crowds of 100,000 each day, was hailed as a great success by Warsaw Sunday papers.

Top performance was a world record of 8:32.0 by Poland's Jerzy Chmorkin in the 3,000 meter steeplechase. Phil Coleman of Champaign, Ill., ran the fastest time ever clocked by an American, 8:40.8, but finished third.

Top U. S. star of the meet was Glenn Davis, who won both the 400 meter run and 400 meter hurdles and also anchored the winning 1,600 meter relay.

Giants Test Red Sox In Only DD Contest

Only one game is scheduled in the Dapper Dan Little League for today and that finds the Giants (5-8) tangle with the front-running Red Sox (7-3) at 6 p. m. on the Post Field.

The scheduled game between the Tigers and Athletics at 6 p. m. at Penn Avenue has been postponed by mutual agreement.

Moore Seeks World Kayo Mark Tonight

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Archie Moore, the patriarch of professional boxers, goes after his 127th knockout and the KO championship of the world tonight when he meets Howard King for the fifth time in a 10-round bout at Moana Park.

Moore, a prohibitive favorite, predicted that he would stop the young 'Reno heavyweight. If he does, it will give him 127 knockouts as a pro and put him ahead of the late W. L. Young Stripling. Both are tied with 126 victims apiece.

Moore, who won the crown in 1955 with a 338 mark, brought his current average to .342 Sunday when he rapped out four hits in eight trips in a doubleheader against the Cubs.

The 31-year-old outfielder from Tilden, Neb., extended his hitting streak to 10 consecutive games by connecting safely in each contest. Philadelphia won the opener, 8-2, but lost the nightcap, 12-10.

In addition to his hitting, Ashburn stole a base in each game to give him a total of 20 for the season.

Council Adopts Sewer Proposal

WESTERNPORT — Mayor Ray L. Will and Council unanimously passed the new sewage disposal plan for the town.

The ordinance, designed to authorize council to collect fees for sewage disposal so the community can finance its share of the proposed Tri-Towns-West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company sewage system, is effective immediately.

Beginning with the current water bills, sewage fees will be added, spokesmen said.

The ordinance provides that the sewage charge shall equal one-third of the total water bill, or a minimum charge of $1, whichever is the greatest amount. A sewage tapage fee of $15 above costs involved is also included in the new law.

There are also sections regulating the use of the town's sewers by industries, and limiting the kinds of sewage, which can be discharged into the system. Industries, including service stations, garages, etc., must follow prescribed provisions, the mayor said and permission of council is necessary for industrial tapage.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: If there is any freedom of the press you'll print my letter and permit me to defend myself. I am the retired Army officer who ran over the little boy's wagon and tricycle. First, let me say that I have arthritis so bad I can hardly drive my car. Every night for the past eight months I've had to stop my car in the driveway, open the door, get out, move the toys, get back into the car, close the door and proceed to the garage. I've spoken nicely to the boy, given him treats, appealed to his parents but it accomplishes nothing. I finally warned his parents that if the toys were in my driveway again I would run over them. His father said, "I wish you would, it might teach him a good lesson." So I ran over them. Can anyone suggest a better method of teaching him a lesson?

RETIREMENT MAN
DEAR RETIRED: You could have stopped your car—hunted up the lad and made HIM move his toys. Or left your car and asked the boy's father to put it in the garage. Destroying property deliberately is too drastic.

DEAR ABBY: We are invited to a silver wedding party to be held in an exclusive hotel. With the invitation came the request for $20 per couple, or $10 single. Our hostess is very friendly with the silver wedding couple, but we hardly know these people. The couple celebrating their wedding is not hard up and he is a well known professional man. My hostess said they were collecting the money to send them on a second honeymoon trip. Should we be a part of this?

IN DOUBT
DEAR IN: If you hardly know the couple for whom the party is being given, decline the invitation.

DEAR ABBY: Here is a question from a lonely, unattached, mature woman. Would it be proper for a woman in my position to invite a single, unattached, gentleman to my home for a meal? I have known him casually for a long time. "Does this cheapen a woman in a man's eyes? How do men feel about this? Please reply."

UNCERTAIN
DEAR UNCERTAIN: I can think of nothing a lonely unattached man would appreciate more than a dinner invitation from a woman in like circumstances. Ask him.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a married man. He is nothing to look at and I am not beautiful. We are just two plain people in love. His wife is very mean to him and has had him sleeping on the couch for two years because she doesn't want him near her. That's why he turned to me for the love and understanding he needed. He has three children who hate him because his wife poisoned their minds against him. He says everyone at his plant hates him because he is quiet and mends his own business. His wife refuses to give him a divorce and I can't turn against him because he says I am the only one in the world who loves him. What should I do?

IN LOVE
DEAR IN: From what you tell me I'm afraid your boyfriend has been on the wrong couch for two years. He should see a psychiatrist. This romance will not get you anything but a broken heart. Do yourself a big favor and send him on his way.

CONFIDENTIAL to "Troubled Soul": Go to Church next Sunday. The Lord promises us mercy—but he doesn't promise us "tomorrow."

Steve And Eydie Typify New Television Styling

Television In Review

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Sunday night on NBC-TV is a lily study in business styling.

One show, the Steve Lawrence-Eydie Gorme hour typifies new show business—intimate, low-keyed, pliable. It is with it. It's next door neighbor, the summer "Chevy Show," is old show business, influenced by the more flamboyant musicals of Broadway and Hollywood—hard formal, broadly socked home, fiercely self-conscious in its pursuit of fun.

Steve and Eydie are children of television. They understand the medium. There is a lack of push and stress and brass about their efforts. The key word is "ease" and as a result, their show is a TV charmer.

I don't think there's any doubt that Steve and Eydie now rank among the most knowledgeable and swinging singers in the trade. They read a lyric with understanding and their approach is fresh, unbacked, Sunday night.

For example, Lawrence with "I've Got You Under My Skin," and Eydie with "I Won't Dance," turned in beautifully probing jobs—Lawrence, wry and insinuating, Eydie, romping and very, very right.

Have "Niceness"
But more than that, Steve and Eydie play to the living room. Their show is stamped with sincerity and what for lack of a better word I'll call "niceness."

On the other hand, the summer "Chevy Show"—except for Edie Adams—is made up largely of cardboard performers. It's almost impossible to feel any rapport with John Raitt and Janet Blair and Dorothy Kirsten who appear as regulars. They seem to stand a little apart from the rest of us. They perform with the ferocious elan of someone determined to prove he is an extrovert. To compound the difficulty, their singing is all very square.

In a way, the comics booked into each hour are the handiest tip-off on the character of each show. The Lawrence-Gorme effort offers people like Paul Lynde, Don Adams and next week, the Compass Players, all of whom credit their audience with some intelligence. "The Chevy Show" has Rowan and Martin, prop breakers and screamers, pallid imitations of Martin and Lewis. They work to the neanderthal members of the audience.

May Get Own Show
There is some talk that Steve and Eydie may land a fall show on NBC-TV as a result of their success this summer. I hope so. If true, I would say there is still some hope for the future of television.

One word review on the revamped "ESP" on ABC-TV Friday night:
No.

The Channel Swim: John Daly will narrate the ABC-TV "Voice of Firestone" shows next fall. CBS-TV is considering another new western for its Wednesday night schedule.

"Wanted Dead or Alive" with Steve McQueen. Jackie Gleason will take a break from his golf on Aug. 18 to cut an album for Columbia. "Rip Jazz."

"The Case For Dr. Mudd" is one of the 60-minute dramas coming up on CBS-TV's new "Desilu Playhouse" in the fall. CBS-TV's "Conquest" is shooting a piece about land erosion at Fire Island, N.Y., this week. CBS-TV has changed the name of its western, "Derringer" to "Yancy Derringer." Denise Lor, former Garry Moore singer, has auditioned for the upcoming Rodgers and Hammerstein in Broadway musical, "Flower Drum Song."

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Tuesday, August 5, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — While your Mars is somewhat negative in influence now, the Sun, Moon and Saturn are in excellent positions. Much progress can be made in usual work, pursuits in which you are trained, talented. Go forward!

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Good news! The Moon, Sun and Saturn. This is a strong and favorable combination. Great good can be accomplished. Good government and personal affairs.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Mercury's position now stresses caution in written matters, contracts, giving estimates, etc. Otherwise, the day can be a progressive one. Hard labor, mental work, road-building, handling all kind of materials favorably.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Your Moon's position brightens the whole outlook today. Good influences should help to lighten many a task, unleash new vigor and incentive.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — An excellent planetary party. The time progress now so don't waste time on trivial things.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — While there may be no necessity for going carefully about signing agreements, etc., influences are generally enervating and equally helpful to laborious tasks and delicate matters; also to the artistic professions.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — A rich, helpful period. You will gain twice as much in everything you do if you will keep your able shoulder to the wheel. Enjoy your work. Enjoy your schedule, enjoy the day.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio) — Manufacturing, improving machinery and tools, handling lumber and vehicles among favored activities. Many new opportunities should be available now.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius) — This should be a splendid day for you students, hardworking folks. Don't overdo, but keep up with a well planned program. New ideas and methods should help to further gains.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 23 (Capricorn) — Some fine influences, but it will be up to you personally how much you take advantage of the proper advantage of all available opportunities. Be tactful, too.

FEBRUARY 24 to MARCH 23 (Pisces) — Tackle problems bravely and with others firmly but not arbitrarily. You will gain more by intelligent persuasion and by using your innate understanding of people and their needs.

APRIL 24 to MAY 23 (Aries) — You have a tendency to be in manner at times. You have excellent qualities for leadership and the power to persuade others to your way of thinking or doing. Be sure therefore that your intentions are always honorable and high-principled. Don't permit subtle influences to mislead you.

Jacoby On Bridge

Better Than Minimum Needed

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

If your right-hand opponent doubles your partner's opening bid, you can show a very good hand by means of a redouble.

Hence, North's jump to three hearts told his partner that he had good heart support, but was only interested in game if South had a good deal more than a minimum.

South did have more than a minimum and decided to go to game anyway. He would have been well advised not to, since West came up with the defense to beat the hand.

West opened the king of diamonds and studied the whole hand carefully. Declarer certainly held the king of hearts and the ace of clubs. He also ought to hold the king of clubs, but that did not matter too much. If East did have that king, South would be able to finesse against it.

Hence the only chance to beat the hand would be to pick up a spade trick. Should East hold the queen of diamonds he could underlead his ace to put him in, but East had played the three spot on the king. Hence, the only chance would be to find East with the queen of spades.

West promptly shifted to the three of spades and declarer was a dead pigeon.

Board Probes Failure To Process Warrants

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP)—A State Police investigating board meets here today in an effort to find out why three 14-month-old warrants never were served on a prominent Maryland contractor.

Alvin J. T. Zumbun director of the Criminal Justice Commission, was scheduled to sit down with the board, comprised of three State Police captains.

Zumbun said he has "additional pertinent information" which he hoped the board could use in its inquiry.

Zumbun was instrumental in launching the probe. Two weeks ago he informed Col. Elmer F. Munshower, State Police commander, about the unserved warrants.

The director said during the weekend he would be willing to sit with the board at its deliberations. Whether his services would be needed was to be decided by the board today.

Meanwhile, Munshower denied that other warrants, in addition to the three in question also remained unserved.

Doctors Tell Mothers Warts Should Be Removed

New York, N.Y. (Special)—Doctors know that picking and scratching at warts may cause bleeding and infection. But today, medical science has developed a new compound, that removes common warts quickly and safely, without painful surgery or electrolysis.

Developed by a famous medical laboratory, this remarkable new formula penetrates warts... destroys their cells... actually causes warts to dissolve away.

Tested by a leading New York skin clinic under careful medical supervision, this remarkable formula proved so effective, only one application a day was needed... proved so safe, it is now used for both children and adults. This new compound contains no mineral acids... leaves no ugly scars.

Today, this new compound is being widely recommended for quick removal of unsightly, troublesome warts. Known as Compound W, it is now available for the first time without a prescription, at all drug counters for just 98¢. Compound W is guaranteed to remove warts... or money refunded.

"What is a no-minimum-balance checking account?"

It is a happy solution for many folks who'd find it useful to have a checking account—but who would not find it convenient to keep a big enough balance in a regular account to avoid service charges. The no-minimum-balance way, a depositor enjoys all the safety, convenience, and efficiency features of paying by check—and need have only enough money on deposit to cover checks actually drawn (each of which costs only a few cents). B&O Freight Train Derails

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—A Baltimore and Ohio freight train was derailed Sunday by a wash-out that resulted from flash floods.

Trainmaster Harold F. Lydick said the main-line tracks probably would not be cleared until Tuesday morning. Traffic was rerouted through Wheeling.

Some of the 30 derailed cars were set afire when a broken electric line ignited a car of inflammable naphtha. A carload of propane gas burned but did not explode.

The 73-car train was bound from Cumberland, Md., to St. Louis.

W.V. Primary Vote Expected To Be Light

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Political observers predict that only about one-third—possibly fewer—of the eligible voters in West Virginia will go to the polls Tuesday in the state's primary election.

An apparent lack of statewide interest was expected to see only about 330,000 of the 660,850 registered Democrats and 410,929 Republicans cast ballots.

For the first time in history, West Virginians will choose candidates for both of its U. S. Senate seats. The seats to be filled are for a full six-year term and the unexpired two years remaining on the term of the late Sen. M. M. Neely's term.

Republican Sens. Chapman Revercomb (R-W. Va.), holding the expiring "long term" seat, and John D. Hobbitt, appointed following Neely's death, are unopposed in the primary balloting.

The "short term" Senate race has created the most interest. It features the comeback attempt of former Gov. William C. Marland, Marland lost in an attempt to beat Revercomb two years ago when the Charleston Republican moved to Washington to fill the unexpired two years of the late Democratic Sen. Harley Kilgore's term.

Marland's foes are Jennings Randolph of Elkins, a former congressman; Arnold Vickers of Montgomery, a former State Senate president; and Del. W. R. (Squib) Wilson of Fairmont.

Revercomb's opposition will come from a race among Rep. Robert C. Byrd, the state's 6th District congressman, and two relative unknowns—Jack R. Dellagatti of Fairmont and Fleming N. Anderson of Charleston.

There are three other state wide races—two Supreme Court judgeships and secretary of state—on the ballot. These are in addition to the six congressional seats, 17 State Senate positions and 100 seats in the House of Delegates.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. PASTETECH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get PASTETECH today at any drug counter.

Regulations For Small Water Craft Proposed

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—James Devereux, Republican candidate for governor, says the time has come to treat small boats in much the same manner as automobiles.

"They must be recorded and there must be uniform regulations for their use," Devereux told a regatta audience at nearby Shady-side yesterday.

The congressman said he strongly favors a bill passed by the house to establish a system for federal-State cooperation for boat safety. He predicted it would clear the Senate and be signed by President Eisenhower.

Devereux said the bill "will establish a national numbering system for all boats under 65 feet in length and will propose to the states that they enact cooperative regulations and establish safety standards."

The bill, he said "is the answer to the sincere demand of thinking, conscientious boatmen. The sport and industry have reached maturity."

When we introduced Dania, you gave it such a wonderful reception that we fired in a big reorder. Stores all over the country did the same thing, because everywhere Dania was shown people fell in love with the subtle, understated Danish designs, and the silken gleam of the natural hand rubbed walnut. Now, at long last, the makers of Dania have not only completed our collection, they have added wonderful new pieces... an important, crown glass china, an all-drawer dresser, a corner table, a handsome game table, an all-walnut chair, a new triple dresser, a dainty dressing table and a corner unit. There are more than fifty Dania pieces, designed not for a specific room but to be combined to the limit of your imagination... and your imagination will take wing when you see Dania. Come see all the pieces before we sell out again.
